Your Support Changes Lives

Meet Graceston

Over the past few years, Curlene noticed her son Graceston had a bow in his legs that continued to worsen to the point of limiting his ability to walk. From their home country of the Bahamas, Curlene brought her 11-year-old son to Nicklaus Children's Hospital in 2021 for a medical consult, where she first met Nicklaus Children's orthopedic surgeon Dr. Kevin Horowitz.

Graceston needed surgery to begin to correct the abnormal curvature of his legs, but his mom was unable to pay for the necessary treatment.

Because of the generosity of people like you, the family was able to receive financial support through the Nicklaus Children's Patient Assistance Fund for Graceston's surgery in the spring.

The family had the opportunity to share their story at the 2022 Diamond Ball.
